Upcoming Sunday Worship Services

January 6 Paper & Stone, Rev. Jeff Briere

A ritual of letting go and a ritual of development. Let It Go and Bring It On!

January 13 Wright or Wrong, Rev. Briere & Tiffany Sapp
Steven Wright gives us a lot to think about and makes us laugh. This service does both, too.

January 20 Martin: Man, Myth, and Message, Tiffany Sapp
It's been 55 years since Martin Luther King Jr. gave his "I Have a Dream" speech. How has the man and his message become mythologized, and what do we need to reclaim for today?

January 27 Social Justice Sunday, David Radcliff
The social justice committee is excited to welcome David Radcliff back to the pulpit. David is director of the nonprofit New Community project. Based in Blue Ridge, VA, he travels widely around the U.S. doing presentations in schools, congregations, youth events, community settings, and regional and national gatherings. His areas of emphasis are living responsibly with the earth, living respectfully and justly with our neighbors, and generally confronting the culture of consumption for our own spiritual health and for the good of the planet, its people and coming generations.

Stewardship Kickoff Square Dance with Live Bluegrass Band Sunday, February 17

Our annual pledge drive will begin next month, and your participation is requested and very much appreciated. Sunday, February 17th will be the big day for the stewardship campaign. We will have a short presentation on the budget and pledge process directly after the service followed by a luncheon of soup beans and cornbread, a live bluegrass band and a square dance caller! This will be fun for all ages. Please put this on your calendar and plan to attend.

Doing “Something” Every Day

I'm a fan of spiritual practices. I've found that engaging in something that nourishes my inner-self every day can often be the difference between a good day and a bad day for me. But for years I had this overly idealized notion of what this involved, and would often turn it into a big production rather than a simple thing to give me the energy and serenity to do my best in a day. For many of us, this sort of “big deal” mindset can keep us from ever getting started.

And so I began to look at it differently. Instead of creating these lofty goals of meditating or journaling, I decided that every day I would do something, no matter how small.

My most common practice nowadays is to light a candle and just take a few deep breaths. It takes about a minute, and it's better than nothing. Actually it's much better than nothing. Somehow this simple acts reminds me of my own inner light.

But sometimes it's a walk, sometimes it's reading a few pages of an ancient text, sometimes it's painting, and sometimes I actually do sit still and meditate for a while. And I've come to discover that the specific thing I do is less important than the fact that I do something every day. For just a moment, I remind myself that I am a tiny, beloved part of a large Universe, and that we are all connected in ways that we can't always understand. The list of what you can do is endless, and you probably already know many of the things that work for you.

As we move into a new year and many people are making resolutions, maybe you can notice what you are already doing to nourish your spirit, and try to do something for yourself every day, even for just a moment.

Social Justice Call to Action Meeting

Sunday January 13th immediately after the service in the sanctuary a vote of those present will take place regarding Holston Valley Unitarian Universalist's official support of the annual Women's March. According to Article XIII of our policies a vote of 3/4ths' majority of those present at said meeting is necessary for our church to give a public statement of support and for members to officially represent HVUUC at the event.

For more information about the vote or event speak with President Spencer Conco

(president@hvuuc.org). This year's Women's March will take place locally at Founder's Park in Johnson City on January 19th at 12PM.

Spring Covenant Groups

Covenant groups are a great way to get to know people on a deeper level than is possible during coffee hour. For more info, visit <https://hvuuc.org/covenant-groups-faq/>. Here are the upcoming groups.

Free Range Small Group

This small group has been designed for people who have never participated in a small group here at HVUUC. What does Free Range mean? It means I have no theme that is consistent between sessions. Curiosity, Shame, Joy, Fear and Fun will be some of the themes we will discuss and share our stories. Small Groups are not Adult Religious Education classes, this is a discussion group where your story matters and your point of view matters. This is also a great way to meet other congregants on a more personal basis.

Location: Ralph Waldo Emerson Room, Religious Education building

Date and Time: Second and fourth Wednesdays from 7-9pm, beginning January 23 through May 22

Facilitator: Greg Kramer freerangecg@hvuuc.org

The Spectra of Sex and Gender

At the moment we are born (or even before), on the basis of a single criterion, each of us is labeled either male or female. This label has tremendous repercussions for the rest of our lives—how we are treated, how we are supposed to dress and behave, what we're interested in, and whom we're expected to love. In this group we will pull back the curtain and explore the reality of gender and sexuality, dazzling variations that go beyond the rigid labels we've been stuck with.

Location: Ralph Waldo Emerson Room, Religious Education building

Date and Time: First and third Tuesdays from 7-9pm, beginning February 5 through April 16

Facilitators: Wendy Hearl and Tish Kashdan spectracg@hvuuc.org

“PPP” Pheelings and Phun through Photography

We'll decide on a theme before each meeting. Examples: “My sacred place”, “happiness”, “its complicated”. Everyone will bring to the meeting a digital image they have captured that speaks to the theme and we'll share our reflections that arise from everyone's images. Don't worry – its not an art contest. The covenant group emphasis on sharing our experiences is the important thing here.

Location: Ralph Waldo Emerson Room, Religious Education building

Date and Time: First and third Thursdays from 7-9pm, beginning January 3

Facilitators: Dave Calvert and Tom Burns photographycg@hvuuc.org

O.W.L classes will impact Religious Education in the following ways:

Pre K-1st grade class will not be impacted.

2nd-4th grade class will be held as normal, minus the children participating in O.W.L.

Junior/Senior Youth class WILL NOT BE HELD! If you have a child who comes to the Junior/Senior Youth class they are encouraged to participate in O.W.L if age-appropriate. If they are not within the age limits they can assist in one of the other R.E. classes. This would be a wonderful opportunity to be a role model for the younger children in our congregation!

Adult R.E. 2 will be transformed into the guardian parallel class. For the first time, guardians who have children in the O.W.L class have the opportunity to participate in the same curriculum. Our hope is that this will foster open and trusting communication at home!

December 2018
New Orleans, LA

Dear Holston Valley Unitarian Universalists,

I hope this is a Merry Christmas and that the Holy days of this season are filled with deep significance for you. Rev. Briere has told me of the death of Virgil Stevens just recently which is surely a source of grief for many including your former minister. He was a very good man and cared deeply about the church. Michael Jones is grieved, and others have passed away, babies born, and the little ones I left are now practically unrecognizable they've grown so. No doubt there are things I don't know about in your hearts as we close 2018, but I do know you have had much snow, an earthquake, folks fleeing floods and hurricanes. Yes, I do some reading on Facebook and a little posting nowadays to keep up with family and friends.

I'm well and that's a very good thing. I've done some pulpit supply in Louisiana and enjoy it, and I remain active in Community Church Unitarian Universalist. I'm on the membership team and facilitate the worship ministry, chaired by the minister. The congregation unanimously called our minister last Sunday, Rev. Darcy Roark, who's been with us for two years. She's terrific, and she welcomes my bits of ministry, which means a lot to me. I wish I'd dared seminary earlier in life, so I could have served more years as parish minister. I do love working with people I love, but now I admit, I am glad not to have the responsibility and stress. You were and are what I call a "good congregation"—grounded in integrity, experienced in organizational workings and intentionally justice minded and compassionate. It is difficult to leave people you love in ministry but there comes a time when it is necessary.

I dearly love granddaughters Chloe who is 1 and Lillian, or "Lilly" until she can pronounce her full name, who is a couple of months shy of 3 years. I keep Lillian two days a week and Chloe two other days and some sitting at night. And we do some things together as a family often dinner. Our intergenerational living continues to work well, benefiting me, the girls and Joel and Lorey, who are able to work from home. My downstairs apartment is crowded with toys, a rocking Clifford the Red Dog, toddler chairs, rubber duckies, balls, and puzzles on top of all the books and art stuff I have...you get the picture.

Last June we went as a family to rural Ireland near Dublin, also to The Hague and Amsterdam. I didn't and do not advise international flying with such young children--Chloe was 7 months and did a lot of sleeping and rolling with events; Lillian at 2 years, did not. However, they were their parent's to deal with for the most on the flights; I helped care for them when Joel and Lorey had events to attend, which was all fine. My favorite day, we all drove into the beautiful green Irish countryside to Newgrange and to The Hills of Tara, said to be two of the more spiritual places or "thin places" in Ireland. We entered Newgrange in the dark to watch an LED replication of the light streaming through a clerestory window piercing the darkness in center of the inner chamber as it does naturally on the winter solstice. Both Newgrange and Tara are said to be older than Stonehenge but less researched. There were many mounds and Dolmens (large upright stones) at Tara. It was the day of Midsummer's Night and a wooden effigy of some animal was in place to be burned in a bonfire later and lots of joyous people making music and gathering to celebrate as night drew near, though we had babies to get home. I will say that we felt very refreshed at Tara. I wouldn't argue that it wasn't the glorious weather and fresh air which made us giddy--I even felt moved to roll down one of the mounds though I got to going much faster than I planned! And, "just saying" as Sam Jones would say, I did have a powerful dream that evening.

We stayed in the older part of The Hague with lovely sidewalk cafés and within walking distance of two art museums. But then there was the trip home. After we landed in New Orleans, Lorey actually said, maybe we could plan to go to Italy next summer! I'd go; they pay much of my way.

I must mention my other 6 grandchildren whom I also adore and don't get to see as much as I wish. Last fall I joined Adam's family from Chicago on an Amtrak trip through snowy mountains to Seattle. That was fun with much time for visiting, although I wouldn't travel the "tracks" again without Dramamine.

You know it all now, so until next year's letter, I bid you farewell. May the year 2019, be a good one for each of you and for the church as it fulfills its mission in NE TN.

Warmly, Jacqueline

Each lesson will be connected to one of our U.U. principles and it will include a story from children's literature, as well as activities and experiences. (We will be outdoors fairly frequently, so please be sure that your child has sturdy shoes, and winter warm clothing later this year.)

If you have a child who comes to the Junior/Senior Youth class, they are encouraged to participate in O.W.L if age-appropriate. ## Social Justice

Kingsport Kitchen of Hope Monday, January 28 & February 4

In the basement of the Full Gospel Mission on Sevier St in Kingsport, is a tiny kitchen staffed entirely by volunteers that feeds dinner 6 days a week to 100-130 people. Diners have ranged from infant to 88. For many of them, it's their only meal of the day. The church serves dinner at the Kitchen of Hope the first Monday of each month. How can you help? Glad you asked.

The menu changes monthly. Volunteers are needed to help cook, serve and clean up.

Set up/cooking: 1:00-3:30

Servers: 3:00-5:00

Cleaners: 4:45-6:00

The kitchen is quite small, so if you want to help, please contact the coordinator so we don't end up with too many cooks in the kitchen!

You can also help by donating food or money for food. Or if you'd like to bake cookies, cupcakes, or other desserts ahead of time (note: we cook for 150, so if it's too much, you could always split this with another baker)

Like to plan ahead? We do this the first Monday of every month, so pencil us in with a big red pen! Please contact Kim if you can help this month kitchenofhope@hvuuc.org.

Family Promise Network

One part of our church's Social Action is to participate with Family Promise Network, both in Johnson City (Hopwood UMC) and Kingsport (St. Luke UMC). The program's purpose is to help homeless families achieve and sustain independence. One night per quarter we provide a meal and overnight presence to the FPN guests of the host churches. Our meals are simple and overnight duty consists of sleeping in your private room and assisting with breakfast the next morning.

When the next request for volunteers goes out, please consider helping with this important and much appreciated part of our church's outreach.
